AW26/ HOME

Centered around our two leading design styles for this season, Scandi and Heritage, John Lewis has struck the perfect balance of considered detail and effortless elegance for the Autumn/Winter season.

Rich natural tones of deep browns, winter yellows, forest greens and blue hues, layered amongst detailed embroidery and rich fabrics, adds depth and interest. This season introduces our biggest development in lighting yet. Our ambitious design team has worked with beautiful materials to create organic curves that throw a soft, almost ethereal light. For Scandi, this translates into milk glass and natural stone finishes. We also celebrate the power of 'the big light' where a show-stopping piece is, often literally, central to the room. Think fluid, petal-shaped glass chandeliers and soft-serve spiral silk pendants. These anchors prove that a well-planned, layered lighting scheme allows you to love, and use, every piece in the room.

SCANDI

Guided by the simplicity of Scandinavian design, Scandi presents a contemporary vision rooted in natural shapes and organic forms. Soothing, harmonious shades of calming blues and butter yellow, can be seen across the collection and creates a sense of tranquil comfort.

The soft edges of the Elara sofa and Tambour sideboard demonstrate how the design team has captured the aesthetic through curved lines and deep-set, plush comfort. Warm lighting enhances this organic look, complementing the natural wood tones. Finally, the Lule tableware brings a welcome sense of fun with playful shapes.

HERITAGE

Heritage embodies classic elegance for the modern home. Marking a sophisticated step change, the collection showcases true craftsmanship through intricately embroidered textiles and artisanal serveware.

The Oxford sofa's decorative pleating and signature ochre, yellow add refined warmth. Meanwhile, the Elder dining table celebrates deep wood tones, with impressive detailing. This is beautifully complemented by the British racing green colour of the Heath dinnerware.
